How to find us

By car

Parking: House of Fraser is the nearest. Otherwise a little further away is G-Mex.
From the M61 and the A580. Follow signs for Manchester - the directions will put you on the A580 (the East Lancs Road) and this then becomes the A6. Follow the road through the underpass and past the University of Salford and then turn right at the traffic lights into Trinity Way. This road takes you under the railway and into New Quay Street which becomes Quay Street by Granada Studios, passing the Opera House on your left. At the traffic lights turn left onto Deansgate and Queen Street is the fourth turning to the right (branch of Millets on the corner). If you get to House of Fraser (on the left), you have gone too far!

By rail

Piccadilly Station is about 10 minutes away by taxi. Or take the Metrolink to St Peter's Square, which is a 2 minute walk from the office.

From the airport

Manchester Airport is south of the city off the M56 at junction 5 and is about 30 minutes away by taxi.
